Producer's note:

Because all of the material used in this set consists of single sessions that produced entire LPs, we've decided to retain the original album sequence within a session rather than present it in chronological order of performance. We'd done this early on with Tina Brooks (106) and Freddie Redd (124), but most of our sets comprise sessions issued in scattered form and unissued masters that make retaining the original album sequence less desirable than strict chronological order of performance. Many of you have expressed a preference for original sequences; so where possible, we will use them.
